

M.A. HART CUP COMPETITIONS ROUND UP - SUNDAY 12th JANUARY 2020

Division One pacesetters Abbey produced an excellent second half come back to get the better of Talbot Rangers 3-1 in their MARK HART SUNDAY SENIOR CUP semi-final. Rangers had been victorious in every game so far this season and there was every indication that it would be business as usual when Ronan Moore put them in front before the interval. Abbey levelled after the break however when Max Willcock went down in the penalty area and he got up to slam home the resultant spot kick. Callum Perry then put Abbey in front after Rangers were unable to get the ball away following a corner and Max Willcock made the game safe in the closing stages when he converted another penalty. Abbey will meet Loch & Quay in the Hurn Bridge final.

Carlo Covello struck for last season's beaten finalists JP Morgan Reserves in their M.A. HART NICHOLAS READ CUP semi-final but it's Boscombe Celtic Reserves who go through to the final after a convincing 5-1 victory thanks to James Morris, Rich Alderson, John Bailey, and a couple of goals from Mark Claremont.

Hundred per cent Division Six leaders Poole Rovers will be Celtic's opponents in the final after their 3-1 success against West Howe Reserves. Karl Chalkley, Lewis Worrell, and Callum Whitelaw were the Rovers scorers with Mark Brock replying for West Howe.

West Howe are through to the quarter finals of the M.A. HART ROBBINS CUP after Richie Whiting, Kyle Leach, Ryan Clarke, Dan Dominy, and Gareth Else ensured a 5-1 fourth round triumph over Division One rivals Newtown Athletic whose consolation goal came from Liam Holland.

Kraken Sports claimed their place in the last eight when Stuart Harley, Peter Jones, and Dan Palmer put paid to Scott V 3-0.

Meanwhile, in the third round, Ollie Bolton's hat-trick proved decisive when Bournemouth

Sports Mercury got the better of Poole Borough Rovers 5-2. Dean Norman scored the other two Mercury goals while Rovers goals came via Tyler Rudd and Adam Frohlich.

Dan Hancock and Levi Ridealgh bagged two each when East Christchurch SSC scuppered Kirkfield United 5-1. Sam Kennedy was the other Christchurch scorer with United replying through Dave Bergson.
